RAIN!

RAIN, SNOW, SLEET.
SLEET, SNOW, RAIN.
THEN SOME MORE.

A! FORTY! MILLION! DOLLAR! RAIN! AND! SNOW! STORM! Has finally reached Carlistadt, after considerably delay.

Starting Friday evening with a twenty four hour soaking rain, which changed to snow on Saturday and continued right up to Monday morning, it is a great source of rejoicing, after one of the driest summers the West has known.

The actual amount of moisture is estimated at about from two to four inches and coming slowly as it did, it nearly all will be absorbed right where it fell. In places, dry sloughs are filling up. Everywhere is the smile that won't rub off.

Farmers are preparing to put every possible acre into crop next year and are busy breaking and working their fields. Land values already have taken a jump. New vim and energy has been put into everyone, for prospects never were brighter.

BADLY BURNED

While busy house cleaning last Friday, Mrs. A. S. Lockren threw into the fire, what she thought was a small parcel of rubbish. But it was blasting powder and exploded, severely burning Mrs. Lockren's face, hands and arms. Dr. McEwen attended the injuries, which though very painful, proved to be not deep and are healing rapidly.

SUFFIELD

Mr and Mrs M. Powers and John Powers, were at home to a number of friends, Monday evening, with a whist drive.

D. D. Doyle is busy killing hogs.

A patriotic concert will be held here Thanksgiving night, in aid of the Patriotic Fund.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Don't wait until you come into town, just mail your sub.

Water has been struck at the stockyards at a depth of 260 feet.

Doc Gasson estimates the value of the rain at $627,490,260.15.

Sandford Lietch returned home on Sunday night from Regina.

Olaf Olson is back from Saskatchewan.

Church services Sunday were ably attended or cancelled entirely on account of the storm.

Earl Ross, who left for Regina to join the Mounted Police, is on the sick from a kick on the knee.

H. W. Johnson was a passenger to Medicine Hat on Monday, returning Wednesday.

Put Burns Hox, who left several weeks ago to join the Canadian soldiers, failed to pass the physical examination on account of lacking several fingers and was rejected.

A. J. Drummond who has charge of distribution of government relief here, has received notice to render every assistance needed by farmers who want to stay on their land and prepare it for next year's crop, now that such bountiful moisture has fallen.

Carlistadt School Board met in regular session last Monday evening. A number of bills were passed to be paid as soon as the Village Council turns in the money. A good report was had from the school. Present were: P. C. Woolven, N. E. Stuart, E. C. Hegy and secretary treasurer H. B. Brigham.

Mrs. George Beattie, one time of Carlistadt but now living in Medicine Hat, was operated upon for gall stones last week. Her condition was such that the doctors were very doubtful of her living through it, but to yesterday she was slowly recovering although not yet out of danger.

Before C. H. Wagner, J. P. last Saturday, one of the section men was charged with being drunk and disorderly. He had endeavored to force an entrance into the house and used insulting language before Mrs. Wagner. Fined $3.50 and costs.

A. L. Oterman, of Redcliff, was here several days on business this week. He has spent the summer threshing in Saskatchewan, but is now back at his business. He says his land north of Carlistadt, has increased in value from $10 to $100 during the past week.

Re the subscription rate to the News. It will remain at the same rate, $1.00 per year, until further notice. As soon as conditions warrant, we hope to return to eight pages, but for the present will continue with four.

Home come the farmers of the district, who have been away threshing and all wear a smile when they see the six inches of mud and slush. Every train bring one or two and sometimes several.

Jas. Buzzard, formerly proprietor of the Great West Hotel here, made old friends a visit this week. Jim is located with his family near Brocket, Alberta, on the Crown's Nest line, on one of his farms. He reports a fair crop and with much pride showed a couple of lop-sided little spuds as samples of his farm crops. However, we hardly think that all his crops are on a par with his tubers.

Claude H. Woolven surprised his mother on Sunday by dropping in upon her from Davidson Saskatchewan, where he has been working all the summer. He left his brother Roy at Bladworth. He and the Bull's are all enjoying life—though somewhat anticipating with pleasure a visit back to the "little old burg".

Notice that smile on the local man's face.

Harry Nunnemaker has returned from Marquis, Saskatchewan.

S. S. Boyd, of Brutus, returned from threshing last Tuesday.

A new school district has been formed in township 18 range 7. F. Bishop is senior trustee.

Wesley McEwen, of Brutus, returned from Gleichen last Friday where he had been threshing.

Mayor Cottar reports that $100 has been subscribed to the Carlistadt Patriotic Fund. Did he get yours?

W. H. Holt and family, who have been visiting friends here, left for home on Wednesday.

Mr and Mrs L. H. McKibbin have taken up residence in the Thompson house.

Ma Dusenbury and the girls will entertain at the Methodist church on October 12th, at 8 p.m. Admission including refreshments 15¢ and 25¢. A good time sure.

D. A. Lietch returned Saturday, from the Brooks flume, where he has been working. The construction is practically finished and is now carrying water.

Job work—we can do it!

J. J. Osborne, of Redcliff, made friends here a visit last week. He is soon moving to Calgary, to take up dairying, which is the line he has been following in Redcliff.

Among those registered at the Carlistadt Hotel are: L. C. Doonan, Calgary; H. Ross; A. C. Johnstone, Medicine Hat; A. T. Staks, Prank; Sask; MacDougall, G. McCalland, Medicine Hat; W. M. Denning, A. M. Johnson, R. S. Gibson, D. Whitney, Calgary; C. Duby.

The W. A. members and their friends attended well the meeting on Wednesday last week at Mrs. C. H. Wagner's, at which considerable sewing was accomplished. A standing vote of thanks was given all who so kindly assisted us at our patriotic concert and dance. It was decided to meet on Wednesday of this week at Mrs. Woolven's to knit socks for the soldiers at the front. A shipment was made last week to the Red Cross Society at Calgary of bangles, cuffs and handkerchiefs.

Any further contributions may be left at the post office.

Meeting next Wednesday at Mrs. Baskin's. All women welcome.

TORONTO STAR.

No doubt the Kaiser thought that when it came to the pinch he could buy Britain off and keep his neutral in the war, if he but offered her enough political and commercial gain. He is not the first great soldier who contemptuously sized up the British as "a nation of shopkeepers." Napoleon learned a lot about about shopkeepers before he was done--and the Kaiser will.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1914.

Thanksgiving comes next Monday -- and we are thankful to say, we have much to be thankful for.

The fourth of October doesn't sound as if it would rhyme very well with an all day snow storm. Poetically it does not. But in 1914 in Alberta, vernacular it does and rhymes splendidly. Mix in with a ten inch fall of snow, thirty hours of rain and then more snow and more rain and you have a suggestion of the weather handed out, Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

The turning point in this district's prosperity has arrived. Too bad so many pioneers who have stayed with the country during its lean years, have pulled out too soon to enjoy the fat ones.

A few suggestions for our Honorable Town Fathers.

A storage cistern must be dug near the town well at once, if we are to have a water supply this winter. The fire engine still stands exposed to all the storms despite the fact that a shack was purchased to house it. Also, as it has been suggested before, we believe that the council should see to it, that brick chimneys take the place of the firetrap tin chimneys now used in some of the business houses.

From here and there, come continually reports of crops that are better than nothing--which makes one wonder why one farmer can get some crop, while his neighbor gets absolutely nothing. Good farming is no doubt the reason and those who have had failures this year, will do well to talk with those who had better success and find their methods and so forth.

When the Hanson family pulled out they left two dogs without keepers. For some time these animals have wandered about starving, being mongrels nobody will want them. Two or three people have already been scared and instructions should be given to the town constable to destroy the dogs as they are a menace, before somebody loses a child.

Fred Whitehead, of Brutus, of the "yellow geared buggy" fame was in last week for supplies, but had to remain longer than he had intended on account of the storm.

ROUTED THE "ROGUE."

A Red Elephant, a Lighted Lamp and a Lucky Blow.

An odd experience fell to the lot of three men who were on a tiger hunting expedition in India. To prevent the invasion of mosquito nets and other insects that would be attracted by the light in their quarters the heavy cotton curtains which formed the door of the tent was closed, and the three friends were chatting across the table, when suddenly the whole tent shook, and as they looked round to see the cause the heavy curtain was roughly snatched away, and in the open doorway appeared the head of a big elephant.

The men had time to catch up their rifles. They knew by the appearance of the animal that he meant mischief. Lifting up the roof of the tent with his head he threateningly swung out his trunk at the man nearest him.

At this the hunter sprang to his feet and, seating the lighted lamp from the table, buried it with all its strength against the animal's forehead. The glass broke at the blow, and the blinding oil covered the animal's trunk with a sheet of flame.

With a cry of terror the beast drew frantically back, shook off the curtains and fled across the country, vanquished by a single blow from an oil lamp. It was a fortunate act, for the animal was no doubt a "rogue" and would probably have killed one or more of the men--Exchange.

MODES OF TRAVEL.

From the Jaunting Car to the Modern Electric Railway.

The first jaunting car was established in Ireland in 1815 by a Milanese, Carlo Bianconi, who settled in Dublin and drove every day to Caher and back, charging twopence a mile. From this small beginning in 1857 he established sixty-seven conveyances, drawn by 500 horses.

The extension of modern manufacture turning towns and cities demanded still greater conveniences, which were supplied at first by the omnibus lines, which up to 1860 were the chief means of urban and interurban transportation. To these succeeded the street railroad, traversed by cars drawn by one or more horses, and these in turn became wholly inadequate to meet the demand of the suburban districts.

The cable car, drawn by underground cable, was the next innovation, but this about 1860 to 1865 was supplanted by the electric trolley line, and these again were supplemented in many cities by elevated and subway lines in which the cars were propelled by electricity supplied by a third rail. This latter device has already been applied to extended lines of railroads, and it is not unlikely that the present century will witness the electrification of most of the railroad lines in thickly settled countries.--National Magazine.

Moral--Don't Be a Goat.

The goat, while out browsing thoughtlessly stopped and rubbed his head in the way that goats have--against the side of the house of the wolf. Out rushed the tenant and fiercely upbraided the hairy brute.

"But I'm quite sure," said the latter, "that I've done your house no harm. Besides, I saw the elephant stop here only yesterday and scratch his back against your dwelling in a way that almost overturned it. And you didn't say a word to him. Why should I be any difference in your treatment of us?"

The wolf licked his chops. "There is a marked difference," he said, "even if it is only a simple one. I can eat a goat, but I can't eat us sheep."

Whereupon he fell to and made a quick and satisfying meal of the unhappy creature.--Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Buy an Irrigated Farm
FROM THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

BECAUSE

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall and insures good crops, not occasionally, but every year.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of feeders, which insures best returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Trirrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the year 1914 having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $35 to $75 per acre, with twenty years to pay and the privilege of a loan of $2,000.00 for improvements (6% interest); no principal payment at the end of first and second years and no water rental for first year. Assistance is also given in supplying stock in approved instances.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record. Get full particulars from
